Foreword

Gemeinsam gegen Gewalt (Together against violence)

Violence is a form of power that is used against the will of a person. The use of violence against a person is thus always an attack on his or her personality and the inviolability of his or her dignity. The “inviolable and inalienable human rights” form the basis of our community and are enshrined as the supreme principle of our Constitution in Article 1. And it is the declared task of the state to guarantee this constitutional mandate. That is why in Germany the individual renunciation of violence applies: According to Article 20 of our constitution, “all state power emanates from the people”. This so-called monopoly of the use of force is transferred to the state authorities and is bound by law. This means that only the state has the right to use force, but is strictly bound by law in its use of force.

Nevertheless, the experience of violence is part of the bitter reality of life for many, yes - for too many people in our society every day. Regardless of whether the violence is expressed through verbal abuse, the mere threat of violence or the physical, sexualised or psychological use of violence, each of these forms of violence damages the integrity of the personality of its victims and constitutes a disregard for and degradation of a person's dignity, self-determination and freedom. And this violence leaves traces of injury in the psyche and soul of the victims: A sense of powerlessness and shame, but also the loss of security and social trust and the shattering of self-esteem are the effects of violence experienced against one's own person.

It is therefore all the more important that victims of violence have the opportunity to talk about their suffering and the injustice they have experienced and to be able to defend themselves. Support services are indispensable to support and strengthen those affected so they can overcome their defencelessness and their passive role of toleration and take on an active role of self-assertion and resistance.

This brochure provides an overview of local organisations that offer such trustworthy support to victims of violence. It is also a guide to preventive services that educate, inform and qualify people on the subject of violence and its mechanisms, but also on effective countermeasures.

The idea and implementation of this compilation came about through the cooperation of partner institutions of the Mannheimer Bündnis für ein Zusammenleben in Vielfalt (see www.einander-MAnifest.de): Together with the Mannheimer Abendakademie and Volkshochschule GmbH and the ZONTA Club Mannheim e. V., the Mannheimer Frauenhaus e. V. launched the initiative for an alliance of partners in order to raise public awareness of the issue of violence and to strengthen social awareness and resistance to violence. Entirely in line with the Mannheimer Erklärung für das Zusammenleben in Vielfalt (Mannheim Declaration for Living Together in Diversity), the three aforementioned alliance partners are offering a network for interested and already committed institutions in order to counter the various forms of violence through a coordinated interaction of the different offers, the mutual exchange of experiences and perspectives and the implementation of measures and cooperative ventures.

This guide is a first, impressive result of this networking effort. We would therefore like to thank the organisations mentioned and especially the people responsible for this valuable product - namely Nazan Kapan, Tina Becker (Mannheimer Frauenhaus e. V.), Gabriele Smith, Birgit Himmelsbach (ZONTA Club Mannheim e. V.) and Mathias Ludwig (Mannheimer Abendakademie und Volkshochschule GmbH) - for their commitment. Thanks are also due to the Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth, which financially supported this networking effort and the printing of the brochure through its funding within the framework of the programme "Demokratie leben!".

We would also like to thank all the institutions that present their services in this guide, which is also available in other languages. We hope that this will provide helpful information and easier access for many of those affected.

We hope that the network of committed institutions against violence will continue to grow and that the ideal of living together without violence will become more and more a reality in our city.

We reserve the right to make changes after the brochure has been produced.

The Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth (BMFSFJ) supports the City of Mannheim with the federal programme "Demokratie leben!" (Living Democracy) in establishing and expanding "local partnerships for democracy". To implement the federal programme in Mannheim, the funds flow to the work of the Mannheimer Bündnisses für ein Zusammenleben in Vielfalt (Mannheim Alliance for Living Together in Diversity). One of the basic ideas of the alliance is that partner institutions become active together in tri- or multilateral cooperation projects and learn from each other in their project work. Within the framework of the project "Themeninsel Gewalt" (On the Subject of Violence) the cooperating partners Mannheimer Frauenhaus e. V., Zonta Club Mannheim e. V. and Mannheimer Abendakademie und Volkshochschule GmbH have joined forces and have produced this brochure, among other things.
